

Wallpaper*

FEBRUARY 2015

*THE STUFF THAT REFINES YOU

DESIGN AWARDS 2015

A big-banging and gently twinkling constellation of standout star turns and synapse-tingling supernovas

Jasper Morrison's boardroom table for the gods

Spiralling staircases to conjugal bliss

A heavenly breakfast in bed

Dwarf stars and fizzling comets: a year of design duds

The universally coveted Judges' Awards, deliberated on and decided by

MARINA ABEL-KOŠIČ
NICKY KATZ

THE JUDGES' AWARDS 2015

Each year, we invite a peerless panel to deliberate over 11 special awards. Below are the Wallpaper* shortlists – our high five for each category.

Turn the page for the big reveal of our 2015 winners and to meet the sagacious six who sat in judgement

BEST DOMESTIC DESIGN	BEST NEW PRIVATE HOUSE	BEST NEW RESTAURANT	BEST NEW OR RENOVATED HOTEL	BEST NEW PUBLIC BUILDING	BEST WOMEN'S FASHION COLLECTION	BEST MEN'S FASHION COLLECTION	BEST NEW GROOMING PRODUCT	LIFE ENHANCER OF THE YEAR	DESIGNER OF THE YEAR	BEST CITY
'Matteo Thun Edition' sauna, by Matteo Thun and Antonio Rodriguez, for Klafis A glass-fronted cube wrapped in wooden slats, offering both privacy and views of the outside world. matteothun.com; klafis.com Tableware collection, by Aldo Bakker, for Georg Jensen Four sculptural forms, cast from stainless steel and iron and inspired by the work of iconic Danish designer Henning Koppell. aldobakker.com; georgjensen.com 'Solitaire' kitchen system, by Bulthaup Ultra-flexible units in oak, aluminium and concrete, with clever storage, designed to encourage a shared cooking experience. bulthaup.com 'Asoe Starck V' tap, by Philippe Starck, for Hansgrohe A tap with a high-quality crystal glass body and a sculptural spout that allows users to see a water vortex in action. starck.com; hansgrohe.com 'Lanterne d'Hermès' light, by Yann Kersalec, for Hermès A beautifully conceived portable lantern made up of four small lights, all clad in leather. jkersalec.com; hermes.com	Vault House, US, by Johnston Marklee A white oceanfront house cut through with arches and vaults and punctuated by a central courtyard. johnstonmarklee.com Herringbone House, UK, by Chan + Eyars A young London practice's inaugural project, on a tricky site, this house in Hackney features pale herringbone brickwork and takes inspiration from Scandinavian minimalism. chanandeyars.com Split View Mountain Lodge, Norway, by Rolf Ramstad A timber-clad ski lodge that makes a minimum impact on its surroundings but offers up maximum-impact views. rolframstad.architects.com Casa B-B, Brazil, by Studio MK27 and Galeria Arquitetos Located in São Paulo, this house comes with an inverted floorplan, and is accessed via an external ramp protected by a concrete cobogó wall. studiomk27.com.br; galeria-arq.br Cosmic House, Japan, by UID A crisp white house characterised by rectangular arches, large glazed planes and courtyards. made-inc.jp	The Jane, Antwerp Chefs Sergio Herman and Nick Bril offer a contemporary European menu in a unique ecclesiastical setting, transformed by Piet Boon and furnished with the best of Dutch design. chejaneantwerp.com The Monarch Room, New York Roman and Williams' glamorous space mixes rough concrete and plush soft furnishings, while chef Michael Citarella serves modern American fare such as pulled pork shoulder and grins. rymonarch.com Carlo e Camilla, Milan Italian haute cuisine by chef Carlo Cracco is served at vast communal tables in a soaring space designed by Tanja Solci. carloecamilla.it Alicia, Buenos Aires Located off the beaten track in a leafy suburb, Alicia specialises in Mediterranean fare, served in a welcoming space with floor-to-ceiling windows. jascamili.com; villadivoto.com The Basement, London The debut hotel of restaurateurs Chris Corbin and Jeremy King, the glamorous Basement is located in a Grade II-listed art deco block in the heart of Mayfair. thebasement.com	American Trade Hotel, Panama City A stylish central American outpost of the Ace Hotel Group, designed by long-term collaborators Commune Design. acehotel.com Fontevraud L'Hôtel, Fontevraud-Abbaye A former convent now transformed into a minimalist, hi-tech hotel by Jouin Manku. Its 14 rooms feature austere materials such as blackened steel, and a palette of beige and mustard yellow. hotel-fontevraud.com JK Place, Rome Located in what was once Rome's school of architecture, Ott Kiefer's JK Place boasts plenty of original features, opulent rooms and a great restaurant. jrome.com Le Méridien, Zhongshan A showcase of the best contemporary Chinese design, curated by Neri & Hu and housed in a 25-storey tower with cantilevered boxes. starwoodhotels.com The Basement, London The debut hotel of restaurateurs Chris Corbin and Jeremy King, the glamorous Basement is located in a Grade II-listed art deco block in the heart of Mayfair. thebasement.com	Pérez Art Museum Miami, by Herzog & de Meuron An open glass and concrete structure, raised on stilts and covered with lush vegetation. pamm.org; herzogdemeron.com Fondation Louis Vuitton, Paris, by Gehry Partners Classic Gehry curves in a green setting, plus playful details and rooftop terraces with great views of the Bois de Boulogne. fondationlouisvuitton.fr; fgya.com M/S Maritime Museum of Denmark, Helsingør, by BIG A ship-shaped, subterranean museum featuring dramatic use of daylight and 'invisible space'. mfi.dk; big.dk Dongdaemun Design Plaza, Seoul, by Zaha Hadid Architects A seamless 86,574 sq m park and plaza complex designed using cutting-edge 3D modelling. sooldesign.se.kr/eng; zaha-hadid.com Bombay Sapphire Distillery, UK, by Heatherwick Studio An environmentally friendly conservation project featuring giant glasshouses and hi-tech production facilities. distillery.bombaysapphire.com; heatherwick.com	Louis Vuitton Nicolas Ghesbrière paired 1960s silhouettes with an updated take on the perennial monogram bag in his debut collection for Louis Vuitton. louisvuitton.com Christophe Lemaire A discreet approach to luxury dressing, with classic, beautifully cut shapes in elegant fabrics. The collection featured reimagined tea coats, luxurious knitwear and elegant draped dresses. christophelemaire.com Dior A new wardrobe for the powerful businesswoman, Raf Simons' collection for Dior included both masculine tailoring and form-fitting lace-up dresses, and bold colours paired with classic black. dior.com Sacai Chitose Abe fused Mongolian fur, Aztec prints, deconstructed velvet and cable-knit wool to create the season's most surprisingly wearable take on hybrid clothing. sacai.jp Celine This season Phoebe Philo created a more relaxed, handcrafted silhouette, with an emphasis on knitwear, derived from masculine tailoring. celine.com	Ermengildo Zegna Couture Stefano Pilati's designs for the Milanese brand included classic suits and coats given depth with the use of luxurious fabrics and unusual finishes such as quilted wool. zegna.com Haider Ackermann Suits, overcoats, blazers and waistcoats, made with luxurious fabrics and worn in layers, showcased Belgian designer's relaxed approach to dressing. haiderackermann.be Saint Laurent Hedi Slimane's rock 'n' roll take saw variety: punk meet uptown polish with Teddy Boy-style silhouettes in stowpique trousers and creepers, as well as glittering pink tuxedos. ysl.com Marc Jacobs The ultimate capsule collection, featuring everything from slimline suits and elegant table polish in Christian Louboutin's signature red. The brush top has been reinvented as a tall quill, designed to mimic a shoe silhouette. christianlouboutin.com Brioni Brendan Mullane took inspiration from the trip Brioni founder Gaetano Savini took to Japan in the 1960s to create sharply cut, fine wool suits embellished with Japanese detailing. brioni.com	Make-up collection, by Proenza Schouler, for MAC This limited-edition, 13-piece make-up range in bright colours was designed to be worn one element at a time, with only one feature – lips, eyes, cheeks or nails – being enhanced. maccosmetics.com 'RAD Spray SPF25' sunscreen, by Environ High-factor spray cream that both absorbs and reflects ultraviolet rays, produced by South African brand Environ. environ.co.za Air-safo manicure set, by Czech & Speake Packaged in a tactile grey case, this stylish travel manicure set was designed to conform to all international regulations. czechandspeake.com 'Rouge Louboutin' nail polish, by Christian Louboutin A thick, glossy nail polish in Christian Louboutin's signature red. The brush top has been reinvented as a tall quill, designed to mimic a shoe silhouette. christianlouboutin.com Grooming range, by Buly 1803 A 19th-century Parisian brand reimagined for the modern world, offering alcohol-free perfumes and paraben-free beauty balms. buly1803.com	'800+' mechanical pencil and stylus, by Rotring A hybrid writing instrument that can be used on paper or on a digital screen, thanks to a unique 'twist and click' retractable mechanism. rotring.com 'Swash' clothing care system, by Procter & Gamble and Whirlpool A compact, personal dry-cleaning machine that works on single items, removing odours and creates in only ten minutes. swash.com Personalised skincare, by Genes This revolutionary new approach to skincare is based on a 30-minute DNA test using a mouth swab and microchip. genes.com 'Day & Night' light, by Étienne Desisse A glowing rotating dichroic glass panel designed to help sufferers of Seasonal Affective Disorder. etienne-desisse.com 'Roma Graffiti' bomber jacket, by Fendi Karl Lagerfeld's graffiti-printed silk bomber jacket for Fendi folds into a neck pillow – the perfect travel accessory. fendi.com	Patricia Urquiola The Spanish-born, Milan-based designer creates new products at a relentless pace but in 2014, she raised her game to new levels, designing everything from tiles and seats to modular kitchens. patriciaurquiola.com Studio Formafantasma Andrea Trimarchi and Simone Farresin developed a design approach that is both conceptual and functional, keeping materials research at the core of their work. formafantasma.com Konstantin Grcic The German designer can do industrial design and conceptual experiments better than anyone, as his striking mechanical glass furniture for Galerie Kroo perfectly illustrated this year. konstantin-grcic.com Dimore Studio Milan-based designers Emiliano Sali and Britt Moran merge past and present styles with bio to create unique interiors and furniture. dimorestudio.eu Schoelen & Baijings The Dutch design duo are masters of colour and graphic lines, this year creating marble tables in sinuous shapes and precisely cut crystal glasses. schoelenbaijings.com	Chicago Chicago's star is rising, with striking hotels designed by the likes of Roman and Williams due to open soon, and the cityscape evolving in a green, more sustainable direction, as seen in Studio Gang's master plan for Northerly Island. Hamburg Germany's second largest city and media capital, Hamburg boasts architectural projects (mostly in HafenCity), new eateries and giant art galleries aplenty. Manila Thanks to a president tackling corruption and talented overseas Filipinos returning home, Manila is a city rising fast, with its new towers and artists' showrooms popping up everywhere. Paris Paris has become receptive to trends, as shown by the electrifying rue du Faubourg-St-Denis, while the Grand Paris project will bring new housing, transport links and artistic hubs to the capital. Tokyo With the 2020 Summer Olympics on the horizon, the Japanese capital is changing faster than ever, with major infrastructure and transport projects already underway.

See images of our shortlisted favourites at Wallpaper.com or download the iPad edition, see Wallpaper.com/iPad